Arcare Knox

Arcare confirms that our team member at Knox who tested positive has since returned two negative COVID tests. This appears to be what is known as a “false positive” and as a result, we have had confirmation from the Public Health Unit that our outbreak measures can be stood down.

Caution is always our preferred method in managing COVID and we are grateful that everyone has returned a negative swab.

We thank our clients, families and team members for their support and patience throughout this process and we look forward to regular COVID-safe activities resuming in the Residence in line with the Victorian Department of Health guidelines.

We will be posting media statements on our website which can be accessed by clicking here.
